

A GUIDE TO SUPPORTING EMPLOYEE WELLBEING DURING COVID-19

Showcase flexibility.
Your employees will have increased commitments to juggle outside of work.

Communication is key.
Offer regular opportunities to talk and ensure that business decisions are cascaded to all.

Remind employees of support services, helplines and discounts on wellbeing providers that they may be entitled to.

Continue to invest in staff development. Offer support with CPD and training opportunities. Offer staff the chance to progress professionally.

Maintain manageable workloads and prioritise effective remote working. Now is not the time to expect your staff to absorb more and more.

For first class support with your workforce strategy Contact us today.